Comprehensive list of printed music in Great Britain

BCM: British Catalogue of Music from CSA, 2008 Ed.

Published on behalf of The British Library.

Print ISSN 0068-1407

For music information professionals, British Catalogue of Music is an essential tool for research, indexing, and cataloguing. It provides the most complete list of current music available from:

- new music published in Great Britain
- new music available in Great Britain through a sole agent
- music acquired by the British Library of Music Collections from foreign publishers.

The catalogue is presented in three sections: a) the Classified Section arranges the works according to the instrument or ensemble for which the work is written; b) the Composer and Title Index; and c) the Title Index, listing the principal music forms and musical characters.

Published three times a year, with the final edition in a hardbound Annual Cumulative Edition.

“An indispensable abstracting source for linguistics.” ***

LLBA: Linguistics & Language Behavior Abstracts

Including International Review of Publications in Linguistics

Print ISSN 0888-8027

“Long the standard in the field, LLBA offers both evaluative and nonevaluative abstracts selected from the international and interdisciplinary literature in language, language behavior, linguistics, and related disciplines. Several hundred journals are ‘screened’ and abstracts for selective titles are provided in the broad core areas of syntax, linguistic theory, diachronic linguistics and second-language learning.

“Each issue organizes the paragraph-length abstracts in more than 20 classifications, including psycholinguistics applied linguistics, phonology, semantics, learning disabilities, and more. Indispensable.” – **Magazines for Libraries.*

Quarterly in five issues, available in print + Annual Cumulative Index. Approx. 14,000 records/year. Free for subscribers: Thesaurus of Linguistic Indexing Terms, 3rd Ed., 1160 pp.
